A FEW PLAIN FACTS.

For more than twenty years we have been trying to build our business on the broad commercial principles of truth and right. We still believe that the prestige of honesty and the power of truth are invincible and eternal, and that people are not wise who pay big prices for Pianos, Organs and Machines, when we guarantee the same goods for less money.

We advise our customers to buy only such makes as years of experience have proved the best in the world for the money. Such makes as Estey Organ & Sons, Wm. Knabe & Co.

Chickering & Sons, Hallet & Davis,
Decker Bros., Emerson & Co. Henry F. Miller.

Still if you want any other makes, don't forget we furnish them all, and you can buy anywhere by getting our lowest prices before closing any trade with any dealer, agent or friend. Try it.

Perfect Hair

Indicates a natural and healthy condition of the scalp, and of the glands through which nourishment is obtained. When, in consequence of age and disease, the hair becomes weak, thin, and gray, Ayer's Hair Vigor will strengthen it, restore its original color, promote its rapid and vigorous growth, and impart to it the lustre and freshness of youth.

I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor for a long time, and am convinced of its value. When I was 17 years of age my hair began to turn gray. I commenced using the Vigor, and was surprised at the good effects it produced. It not only restored the color to my hair, but so stimulated its growth, that I have now more hair than ever before.—J. W. Edwards, Coldwater, Miss.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

Sold by Druggists and Perfumers.

IF YOU ARE SUFFERING from debility and loss of appetite; if your stomach is out of order, or your mind confused; take Ayer's Sarsaparilla. This medicine will restore physical force and elasticity to the system, more surely and speedily than any tonic yet discovered.

For six months I suffered from liver and stomach troubles. My food did not nourish me, and I became weak and very much emaciated. I took six bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and was cured.—J. M. Tanner, Springfield, Mass. tf

FOR RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA and NERVOUS PROSTRATION.

Though we do not claim that VIGORINE will cure every case of rheumatism, there is positive proof that it has cured many. In fact, its power to correct the acid condition and chemical changes in the blood which produce the disease has become remarkable. You can use nothing with greater certainty of success. It has cured when other remedies failed. Use VIGORINE with perfect confidence for any blood impurity. For Canker in the Mouth and Stomach, Ulcers, Pimples, Boils, and all skin diseases, it always gives satisfaction. For dyspepsia, female weakness, and debility, there is not a medicine known that equals it. Evidence from thousands of the best families in the country substantiate this statement. It purifies the blood, and that is the secret of its great value as a vitalizer of the exhausted functions.

STATE NEWS.

Androscoggin.

The movement for the proposed Auburn Home for Aged Women is meeting with great success.

The little child of Frank McCann, burned so badly several days ago by sitting accidentally in a dish of boiling water, died Thursday night. The little one has been a great sufferer.

The steel tire on engine No. 10, Conductor Cobb's train from Brunswick to Lewiston, snapped with a report like that of a pistol, Friday morning, as the train was within about a hundred yards of the Lisbon Falls station. They telegraphed to Lewiston for the shifter and the train was only twenty minutes late into Lewiston.

About 2.30 o'clock Friday morning, an Auburnman heard a knock at his door. On going down he found a lunatic who had escaped from the Insane Hospital at 4 P. M., on Thursday, having been walking constantly since that hour. It was bitter cold and the poor fellow said he was freezing. The wanderer was taken in and thawed by the kitchen fire, fitted with boots and a warm coat—a ticket purchased for him; and he was sent on his way.

A Lewiston lady has one of Gen. Washington's knee buckles. It is a genuine article, whose history can be traced back authentically to Gen. Washington through a Revolutionary patriot grandsire, who one day picked up the shining buckle left by the Father of His Country in the camp of Valley Forge. The buckle has been transferred into a bosom pin. The old-time buckle is an oval setting of brilliants in old-fashioned silver, with an inner border of pale, antique looking gold. It is striking from its oddity. It came to the lady as a Christmas gift from a grandmother who had treasured it as the apple of her eye.

Aroostook.

Mr. B. F. Jones, of Blaine, has raised the past year 3,500 bushels of oats, 4,000 bushels of potatoes, 500 tons of hay, and 60 bushels of beans, beside other products. He has 25 hogs and a large stock of horses and cattle. One item of Mr. Jones' business has been the purchase and shipment of 6,000 dozen of eggs.

Cumberland.

The gross receipts of the post office at Saccarappa for the past year were $2,147.72; the total expenses, $1,100; net revenue, $1,047.02.

Mrs. Belinda Jewett, an old lady of nearly eighty years, living in Portland, died suddenly Thursday night about midnight. She appeared only a few hours before in the usual state of health for a person of her years, and was out of doors Thursday afternoon. It is thought the exposure to the extreme cold of Thursday led to her death.

Hancock.

Some 125 granite cutters and 40 quarrymen and blacksmiths employed on the work for the Pittsburg custom house and post office at East Bluehill, stopped work on Wednesday of last week, and refuse to go on till they are paid their wages for November. The sum due them is about $2,000, says the Rockland Opinion.

Mrs. Roxie Eaton, of Sedgwick, while emptying a tub of water, fell and bruised her arm quite badly. The next day, Dec. 21st, she walked over a mile to visit one of her relatives. She retired in her usual health that night, but before morning she was taken sick, and has suffered very much since. Mrs. Eaton is ninety-five years of age, and her recovery is doubtful, says the Rockland Opinion.

Mr. Nicholas Curran, who keeps the Curran House, formerly known as the Agamont, Bar Harbor, has a steady growing patronage at his house through the fall and winter months. Recently, while Mr. Curran was at work on land belonging to his wife, at Eagle Lake, he unearthed a Japanese coin, inlaid with gold, the date of which was 1285. Fifty dollars has been offered, and refused, for it. Mr. Curran keeps the Eagle Lake House during the summer season, in connection with the Curran, which is open the year round.

Kennebec.

The ice in the Kennebec is from nine to fourteen inches thick. Scraping and planing are now in full operation.

The Haynes & DeWitt Ice Co. began cutting ice at their Icebore houses, Monday, with a full crew. The ice is about a foot in thickness, clear and blue. They have employed about one hundred horses in planing this week.

The Waterville Mail says it is creditably informed that in the Stanley Hill district, China, which is thickly settled and the families large, the son recently born to Mr. W. S. McCorrison is the first boy born in the district for twenty-two years.

The Woman Suffrage League of Augusta, held its second meeting Tuesday afternoon last, and voted to become auxiliary to the State Association by adopting its constitution and by-laws. The membership was largely increased.

A large coal operator says that Mr. Blaine owns 1,000 acres of coal lands which are taxed for $120,000 but are worth $250,000. If the Government should purchase the Monongahela Navigation Company's system of locks, as was proposed in the last River and Harbor Appropriation bill as it passed the House, the operator says that Mr. Blaine could easily sell his lands for $400,000. He says that all the arguments have been used to induce Mr. Blaine to take a part in forwarding the scheme, but he has refused to have anything to do with it.

Lincoln.

Mr. Benjamin M. Monk, while digging for skunks upon the shore bank, upon the line between the farms of Hon. S. S. Marble and Mr. Charles H. Lilly, at Wiscasset, exhumed the skeleton of a man, which was only about one foot under ground. The person was probably buried there when the town was first settled, says the Rockland Opinion.

Oxford.

The Norway Advertiser says that the fate of Joseph Lewis, who disappeared from the town farm of Greenwood about one year ago, is still wrapped in mystery. He is supposed to have perished in the woods.

The Bridgton News says that in the death of David Knapp, Esq., of Norway, the temperance reform cause has lost one of its chief pillars.

At a meeting of the citizens of Fryeburg Village at the Oxford House, Thursday evening, it was decided to petition for a charter for a horse railroad to extend from the C. C. station to Kezar Falls, a distance of two and one-half miles. The prominent men of the place are taking hold of it with the Martha's Grove Association.

Sagadahoc.

Hon. Wm. Rogers is building a large saw-mill on one of the Randall wood-lots in Topsham, and a branch line will connect it with the Maine Central.

There is a rumor that contracts for two new vessels, with Bath parties, have been made, one by the New England Shipbuilding Company, and the other by a firm that cannot be named at present.

While trying to fix a whiffletree, Thursday, Mr. Samuel Odiorne, of Richmond, received a severe wound over the left eye, the implement striking him with force sufficient to lay his eyebrow down over his cheek. The whiffletree was impelled by a kick from one of his horses.

Jas. S. Higgins who was required to give bonds for $500, by the Municipal Judge, for his appearance at the April term of the court to answer the charge of stealing $80 worth of copper and brass from the Bath Iron Works where he had been employed, failed to obtain bondsmen, Thursday, but was permitted to remain at his house over night, and he was on the street Friday forenoon. A more serious charge has been developed against him, in that strong circumstantial evidence has been obtained that he has been guilty of opening letters that had been placed in his post office box through mistake, and money abstracted therefrom.

Somerset.

A Skowhegan merchant was knocked across his store while trying to tinker his electric light with a stove poker.

The Fairfield correspondent of the Kennebec Journal says several Somerset county men are losers by defaulter Reed of the South Boston horse railroad.

Frequent and earnest complaints are made at Fairfield of the inefficiency of the mail service. Letters sent to Fairfield go to Pittsfield or elsewhere. A letter mailed there was two days and a night reaching Boston. A card mailed at Mechanic Falls on the 25th, reached Fairfield the 28th.

George W. Wetherell, one of Fairfield's oldest lumbermen, died Dec. 28th, aged seventy years. For many years he owned and managed the Fairfield boom.

The Wisserunsett Woolen Mill of East Madison is running on full time and making ladies' dress goods. The mill is prospering and there has been a marked increase in the business of the village since this new industry started.

Stephen Lander, of New Portland, at work hauling logs, broke his leg between his knee and ankle, Saturday, the 25th.

Washington.

On Saturday, Dec. 25th, Mrs. Cyrus Sanborn, of Addison, while sitting in her room, dropped from her chair and expired almost instantly.

Jesse C. Sheaf and George Hayes of Eastport, are making arrangements to start on a cruise to the West Indies and South America the first of February. The Sentinel says it is expected a number of other gentlemen in town will join them.

Harry H. Roach, son of Mr. John Roach, of Eastport, has passed an examination and received an appointment to the U. S. Signal Service Corps.

Sch. Modoc, Capt. Wm. Perry, of Machias, arrived in Bermuda, Dec. 12, with the loss of her rudder. Experienced very heavy weather, but arrived all safe. Will refit and proceed on her voyage.

Mr. H. T. Leighton, of Columbia, has in his possession a common flour barrel which he has had in use for sixty-one years. Mr. Leighton is eighty-five years of age and for the past four years has not missed milking his cows twice each day.

The schooner Pacific that sailed from Addison some weeks since, it is rumored, had some twenty deer saddled for parts of her cargo. It is also learned that the deer wardens have telegraphed to ports that the schooner may be likely to call into, to have the deer seized.

The ladies of the Congregational Society, of Cherryfield, held their annual Fair on Wednesday of last week, concluding with a turkey supper. The attendance at the sales throughout the day was large, and nearly all of the exhibits which consisted of useful and ornamental articles were disposed of. The net proceeds of the occasion amounted to one hundred and fifty dollars.

Cutler has no resident physician, the nearest one being at East Machias, a distance of twelve miles. It has one preacher who preaches alternate Sabbaths at the Methodist and Baptist houses. It has twelve school teachers, all young, and nearly all unmarried. There are four stores in town, two post offices, etc., but the indications are that Cutler will be built up and rank among the resorts that are so earnestly sought by thousands in summer.

York.

A movement is on foot, which has for its object the holding of the September term of the Supreme Court for York county in Saco instead of Alfred. A paper is in circulation in the two cities, and has already received the signatures of nearly all the lawyers there, who favor such change.

Our Garland Letter.

[Regular Correspondence of Whig and Courier].

We have been having very cold weather, as all can appreciate if they enjoy the cold at 20° below zero. Thursday, your humble servant rode from Bangor to Garland, and you may be assured that it was not a comfortable ride. Friday it moderated, and in the afternoon began to snow; Saturday morning it is raining, the old year going out in a snow storm and the new coming in with a rain, the thermometer standing 34° above zero at this writing—a great change in a short time.

The usual Christmas trees were at the White Church, where old and young met to exchange greeting and pass an hour, the happiest of the year.

Friday evening, there was a benefit concert and entertainment for the Garland Cornet Band, at the Town Hall. Music, instrumental solos and selections by the Band.

The farce, "My Turn Next," was presented by local talent, and all parts were well taken. After the entertainment, there was a Grand Ball at Knights Hall, with about fifty couples. Music by "Dearborn's Orchestra." At intermission, an oyster supper was served the dancers at Town Hall. Thus the old year went out and the new came in at Garland.

Reed & Foss, who lately bought the mills at this village, are putting in a new circular saw in place of the old up-and-down saw, which will be a great improvement.

Interesting Occasion in Charleston.

[Correspondence Whig and Courier.]

On Monday evening of last week, a goodly number of the friends of Rev. L. L. Hobbs met, with their pastor, at the residence of Mr. John E. Foss of this place. A very fine oyster supper was served. Previous to the supper, the company had the pleasure of listening to several choice selections of instrumental music, rendered by the hostess, Miss Minnie Foss. After the supper, Mr. Hobbs was presented with an elegant, cabinet photograph album as a token of regard from his friends in Charleston. The presentation was made by Mrs. W. J. Rideout, who accompanied it with a few well-chosen remarks. The affecting manner in which Mr. Hobbs replied to the presentation, showed how deeply he appreciated the kind though tfulness of his friends which prompted them to the bestowal of this gift. The burden of his remarks expressed this desire, that his labors in Charleston may not have been in vain; that the seed sown here for the Master may have fallen upon good ground; and that by and by another, if not himself, may reap an abundant harvest as the reward of his labors. The only detraction from the pleasure of the evening lay in this fact; that Mr. Hobbs closed his pastoral work in Charleston, Dec. 26. He leaves us accompanied by the good wishes and strong sympathy of many true friends.

Gentlemen: While suffering from malaria I was advised to try your Coca Bark Tonic. I used one bottle, and the effect and cure was happiness and health combined.

I have since then recommended it to a great many employes here, with the most surprising and satisfactory results every time.

In a case of bleeding of the lungs I suggested a trial, and the result in building up of strength was wonderful. It is the most sovereign remedy I have ever known.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 4, 1887.

The indications all point to a busy session of the Legislature

It has been decided to invest the fund for Mrs Logan in four per cent United States bonds and the first installment of $70 000 was secured yesterday

The next Democratic platform will doubtless contain a civil service reform plank and yet from the President down the party is now engaged in making that reform a complete farce

The Democrats are now trying to settle the question of the chairmanship of the State Committee Brown is understood to desire a re election as a further evidence that he possesses the entire confidence of the party

A New York contemporary suggests that the person smart enough to locate a pocket in a woman's wearing apparel that will be secure from thiefs and at the same time convenient for use will confer a lasting favor on suffering humanity

Under different circumstances one might feel a pang of sympathy for the New York Herald as it writhes under the severe treatment administered from time to time by the Sun but as it is the punishment seems to fit the crime

The Bank Examiner of New York has been moved by direction of Secretary Manning Now let the Evening Post which has protested against this action, sack it well tears and prepare to swear that it did in the interest of reform

The President has approved the act providing for the relief of the survivors and the heirs of the victims of the Jeannette expedition the act to modify the postal laws relative to and the act to extend the free delivery system of the Post-office Department

Lord Harrington having refused to accept a place in the Salisbury Cabinet as things now stand it looks as though over tures will have to be made to secure the return of Lord Randolph Churchill or Joe Chamberlain will have to dissolve The situation is mixed

Peter Watterson is amused at Senator Voorhees' comment of Mr Cleveland after having put his head in the President's hat it plunged up the Executive nose in the form of a dude Mr Watterson can afford to treat the Administration having come off best in the encounter

Congress will convene again to-day but fifty one working days remain and with the remembrance of the last session being nearly eight months with little or nothing to show for it still fresh in the public mind there is small reason to look for much legislation The House is weighted down with its forty Democratic majority

Judge Pratt before whom the arguments in favor of a stay of proceedings in the McQuade case were made will probably render his decision Wednesday McQuade is making a hard fight to keep out of Sing Sing but will hardly succeed The general impression is that his sentence was a mere just one and it is not thought it will be interfered with by the high Court

Mr Edwin Stuart whose name has been prominently mentioned in connection with the Republican Mayoralty nomination in Philadelphia has withdrawn in favor of Mr Fitler This action was taken in the interest of party unity and reflects much credit upon Mr Stuart's staunch Republicanism Mr Fitler will now receive the unanimous nomination which means election by the people

The organ of the Chicago Anarchists is urging the people to arm themselves with the most effective weapons "whether gatlin guns rifles or pistols" The authorities should profit by the lesson of the past and promptly suppress the publication of this reckless sheet thus muzzling the populace In deeds of violence and bloodshed The way to do a thing is to do it, and the sooner these rascally outlaws are made to understand that they must conform to the laws of the land the better it will be for the country at large

We publish this morning the reports of the officers of the Maine State College In referring to the loss of the cattle the Trustees say that while it was a serious misfortune to the college still it will prove a benefit to the State at large in calling attention to the characteristics of a contagious disease that has heretofore been but slightly recognized as such The action of the Faculty in maintaining the discipline of the college on the occasion of the hazing disturbance is warmly approved The needs of the institution for the coming year are set forth in the report of President Fernald who also calls attent on to a suggestion relative to the bequest of the late ex Gov Coburn

In the last campaign all criticisms of Mr Cleveland's lack of knowledge of public affairs was met with the declaration that he was at least a staunch reformer and would bring about a complete divorce of the civil service from politics, a change his Mugwump admirers insisted was absolutely necessary to the proper administration of the government Instead of doing this however, every change in the service has been strictly on a political basis, competent officials having been removed time and again simply to make a place for a Democratic worker The President having thus completely exposed his inability or disinclination to accomplish the only thing for which it was ever claimed he was fitted, what will the Mugwumps do in 1888?

Harper's Weekly classes together the removal of Mr Chas. H. Ham, the Appraiser at Chicago, Mr. Combs of Maryland, one of the four General Appraisers on the Atlantic coast, Capt. Patten of Maine, the Commissioner of Navigation, and Deputy Internal Revenue Commissioner Rogers, and says of them:

"As no reasons are publicly alleged, the public must decide upon such information as is accessible, and the opinion is universal, so far as we have seen, that these officers were all singularly competent, and in no sense offensive partisans. We regret sincerely the discredit which such changes necessarily cast upon the Executive. If they are deemed necessary to secure party support the same necessity might be pleaded with equal force for disc ard of reform in all suspensions and removals."

An examination of the record will show that these cases are no exception to the general policy of the Administration.

Both factions of the Democratic party are still all at sea on the tariff question. Nothing has been done during the recess toward arranging for future action on the subject.

A Portland despatch to the Boston Journal says "Gen John M. Brown, of this city, is understood to have tendered to Gov Robie his resignation as Brigadier General of the Maine militia For some time there have been rumors that Gen Brown contemplated such action and there has been some speculation in regard as to who would be his probable successor His resignation now leaves the field open, and it is not unlikely that Col H L Mitchell, of Bangor, will be the next Brigadier General For some years he has been recognized as the most active commanding officer of his rank in the State, and his best endeavors have been directed to promoting the welfare of the Second Regiment Col J J Lynch, of the First Regiment, is also understood to be a candidate for the position of Brigadier General"

As to the interstate commerce, says a Washington despatch, it had been expected that some plan would be formed during the recess by which the passage of the bill reported from the conference could be assured or a substitute agreed upon which will be acceptable, but Senator Cullom, who has that matter in charge, has been wholly absorbed during the recess with duties which devolved upon him as the representative of his State in connection with the death of Gen Logan, and he has not given a thought to the subject of interstate commerce There is a feeling among many Senators who are friendly to the general principles of the bill that more was conceded to Mr Reagan than was necessary or is desirable, but whether these objections will go so far as to result in serious opposition is not yet clear There are reports that the railroads are organized to defeat the bill and that public meetings will be held in opposition to it, If any such organization has been effected it has been in secret There are no indications here at present that any railroad company is interesting itself with respect to this proposed legislation The Vice President of the Pennsylvania Company, replying to a statement that the roads had organized to defeat the conference bill, says that such is not the fact, and that no one to his knowledge is in Washington or elsewhere with any such object in view There will evidently be a protracted and earnest debate on the measure

Treasury Decisions

We clip the following from among the synopsis of decisions rendered by the Treasury Department in custom cases, during the month of December

7 A steam pleasure yacht is not entitled to free entry either as the personal or household effect of a person arriving in the United States (Letter to Acting Collector of Customs at St Paul December 22 1886

4 Fish caught on the coast of Newfoundland by the crew of an American vessel licensed to engage in the fisheries, assisted by men hired in Newfoundland for fishing purposes, are entitled to free entry upon importation, under the provision in the free-list, of "fish, 749, fresh all other articles the produce of such fisheries" (Letter to Collector of Customs at Gloucester December 18, 1886

9 Lumber from logs owned and cut by citizens of Maine in that State sawn in the Province of New Brunswick in a mill leased by American citizens, is entitled upon importation into the United States to the privileges of free entry, under the provisions of Section 2505, of the Revised Statutes, as contained in the act of March 3 1883 (Letter to Hon C A Boutelle, House of Representatives, December 24, 1886)

John A Logan

[The Buffalo Catholic Union and Times]

John A Logan has been gathered to his fathers He who on the tented field has often plucked from out defeat the flower of victory, he around whose form the shades of death have lowered in vain on many a bloody battlefield, is carried from the stately Senate to his last resting place amid the departed great and honored of the Republic

No man who has attained exalted station in this country was ever more truly typical of American progress, opportunity and fortune, that John A Logan The child of poor Irish emigrants, nurtured amid pinching poverty, he grew like the oak of the forest in unpruned yet strengthful grandeur The path of his existence was a fearless civic virtue. The winds of fortune beat and blew, the blasts of calumny raged and howled, the rains of sorrow drenched the noble tree, but after the storm, the flowering foliage spread abroad its ample honors, defiant of the tempest and glittering in the sun

Such was the character of the man whom death, in this glad season of the year, has reaped as another sheaf in the illustrious harvest of 1886 In his demise his family lose a loving head his friends a steadfast ally, his party an able and dashing leader, the Republic a brilliant soldier and a great Senator

MAINE NEWS.

MAINE STATE COLLEGE.

Annual Reports of the Officials.

AUGUSTA, Jan 3 The annual reports of the Trustees President, Farm Superintendent and Treasurer of the State College of Agriculture and the Mechanic Arts have been printed

The Trustees' Report.

Hon Lyndon Oak, Chairman of the Board of Trustees, reports At the close of the summer term, Prof C H Fernald, who had been instructor in the department of Natural History for fifteen years, resigned, and Prof Francis L Harvey, formerly of the Arkansas Industrial University, was elected to fill the vacancy

Mr A E Spencer, of Bradley, has conducted the affairs of the boarding house through two terms very acceptably

The usefulness of the shops for instruction in wise-work forge work, carpentry and wood turning was greatly increased by a judicious application of the money appropriated by the Legislature of 1885 for finishing rooms in the shop building The Trustees find there has been no abatement of interest in shop practice

The Pleuro Pneumonia

In referring to the loss of the college cattle the Trustees say it was a severe misfortune to the college It cut off a source of income much needed by the farm, in addition to the serious loss involved The State however, will find compensation by having had the attention of its citizens called to the character of a specific and contagious and destructive disease that has hitherto been little recognized as such in the State It is safe to say there are few towns in the State where losses by the disease have not occurred

A new building for the accommodation of the departments of Natural History and Agriculture is asked for and it is safe to say that such a step would double the value of the services of the gentlemen who have charge

The Hazing Disturbance

The Trustees state that they could not do otherwise than give their entire approval of the action of the Faculty in the hazing disturbance The question that confronted the Faculty was, shall we retain the disciplinary powers of the institution or surrender them to the students? The only answer was given that would have satisfied the friends of the College and the institution comes from the ordeal healthier stronger and better than ever It is proper to say that parents have the right to demand that their sons at the college shall be protected from the abuses involved in the barbaric practice of hazing

Notwithstanding the college has been subjected to the strain of occurrences of an unusual character during the year its prospects were never brighter than now Its capabilities for better work have been constantly in requisition, and indications point to a more rapid advance in usefulness in the future

President Fernald s Report

The President Prof M C Fernald, reports The endowment fund established by the national government amounts to $111 300, and yields an annual revenue of $7 438 Ex Gov Coburn increased the endowment by $10,000 The State appropriations have amounted to $212 618 The buildings are valued at $125 000, the apparatus at $15 000 the library at $7 000, the farm tools stock carriages etc at $18 000, making a total of $165,000 The amount from the state devoted to instruction has averaged approximately $3 500 a year The number of graduates is 238, non graduates 63 The latter class has pursued studies at the college through periods ranging in individual cases from one term to three and a half years, averaging one and a half years These numbers do not include the 103 students now catalogued and it appears that 601 students have enjoyed or are enjoying the advantages of the courses of instruction

Occupations of the Graduates

The number of graduates prior to June, 1886 was 222 Of these 11 have died, leaving 211 An examination made in July disclosed the fact that of these 18 are farmers and 11 specialists in agriculture, 38 civil engineers, 22 mechanical engineers, and 10 engaged in manufacturing, making 49 per cent engaged in these important forms of industry Of the 107 graduates remaining, 30 are teachers and 31 engaged temporarily in miscellaneous callings Of the living graduates under forty, 9 per cent are engaged in the professions and 31 employed in other industries Of the living non-graduates whose occupations are known, 13 per cent are in the professions, and 87 per cent in industries

Beneficiary Funds

The "Prentiss Prizes" will be continued Nehemiah Kittridge Esq, of Bangor, has generously placed under the control of the President and Trustees of the col ege $800, to be used as a loan fund to meritorious students needing temporary aid he loans are to be made under prescribed conditions

President Fernald invites attention to a suggestion which he has heard made many times relative to the investment of the Coburn bequest The suggestion is this, that it would be a fitting response to the munificence of ex Gov Coburg for the Trustees to receive the money bequeathed, and to issue therefor a bond on long period bearing 6 per cent interest payable semi annually to the college treasurer Thus the State would become essentially the custodian of the fund

Needs for the Next Two Years

The estimated cost of the proposed building for the departments of Natural History and Agriculture with the necessary cases fixtures, heating apparatus, &c is $18 000 The other needs for the next two years are, according to the President, for instruction above estimated receipts, $4,000, travelling expenses of Trustees, $500, insurance, $600, for apparatus for several departments—Civil Engineering, $400, Agriculture, $250, Mechanical Engineering $35), shop $175, Chemistry, $300, Natural History, $500, physics, $375 military department, $100, aggregating $2 500; for building tank for water supply, perfecting drainage system and other sanitary improvements $1,000, for miscellaneous items $750 These several sums including that for the building aggregate $27,350

To make good the loss and provide for the re-establishment of the herd, $5,000 will be required $1 000 will be needed to finish the Goddard barn

The Library

The library contains nearly 5,000 volumes The Natural History collection of the college include about 900 named and mounted species of the flowering plants of Maine There is also a collection of sections of tropical species of wood and a similar collection of the United States species The college also has a working collection of carefully selected forms representing the prominent groups of the animal kingdom a large and valuable collection of Maine insects, and a fine collection of marine animals In the laboratory are a good series of more common minerals and ores The laboratory needs to be enlarged and more apparatus is wanted

The financial standing of the farm for the year ending Nov 30th, 1885, showed a credit balance of $2,055.93, while for the year ending Nov 30, 1886, the showing was on the debit side of the account, to the amount of $2,631 99, showing a net loss for the year of $4,687 92

The heavy loss is accounted for by the disaster to the stock by disease. The herd numbered 51 animals before its destruction

Areas of Crops and their Yield.

The areas of crops and their yields were as follows

Grass, 109 acres,	207 tons.
Oats, 12 acres,	500 bushels.
Barley plots,	20 "
Turnips, ¾ acre,	180 "

The leading crop of the farm—grass—yielded nearly two tons per acre.

The College Treasurer gives the following financial status of the institution:

Cash on hand last report,	$6,12- 48
Total receipts for the year,	14,201 73
Total payments for the year,	12,[illegible] 15

Continuation of the Contest.

NEW YORK, Jan 3. The contest over the will of the miser, the late James H Paine, was resumed to-day W Daniels' cross examination was resumed He admitted that he might have told Wardwell that he was in possession of certain facts about the Paine will case that he ought not to endanger by refusing a certain loan He had not received and did not expect to receive any compensation for his testimony From reading the testimony he became convinced that a fraud was being perpetrated and it was his duty to thwart it Ex Gov Chamberlain introduced letters written by Daniels to Ward well urging him to make Pelton who was embarrassed, a loan and Wardwell's reply defying him and stating that but for his friendship to Pelton no reply would have been made.

CONNECTICUT.

Arrested for Grand Larceny

NEW HAVEN, Jan. 3 Charles N. Wheeler, of Williman le, son of John D. Wheeler, for several years Clerk and Treasurer of the town of Windham, has been arrested upon the requisition of Gov. Oglesby, of Illinois, granted by the Governor of Connecticut, upon he charge of grand larceny. Wheeler has been a member of a banking house in Chicago, dealing in western farm loans, and is charged with stealing $800, which had been paid him. The deputy sheriff, who sought the requisition, accuses Wheeler of other crimes which involve the establishment and wrecking of a bank near Chicago, and defrauding depositors of $40,000. Wheeler is very respectably connected.

THE AMERICAN CREED.

The Heresy Trial Concluded and Adjourned Without Date.

BOSTON, Jan. 3. The Andover heresy trial was concluded and adjourned without date to-day. Prof. Tucker, D. D., read a statement, in which he stated that he accepted for himself, as do the other Professors on trial, the defense made by Prof. Smyth on all the points, which was equally applicable to all of the accused He said that when this hearing began he was solicitous for its result upon the accused, but now since he had heard the accusers his solicitude was chiefly for the seminary. Prof. Tucker was followed by Prof. Harris, D. D. He said: "It is evident that we are accused, not because our opinions differ from the creed, but because they differ from those of our accusers, a difference which we do not for a moment deny." Prof. Harris was followed by Professors Hincks and Churchill. When the four additional respondents had been heard President Seelye, chairman of the board of visitors, declared the hearing adjourned without date

FROM WASHINGTON.

News About the Capital.

Fish Caught in American Vessels Free of Duty.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3. Assistant Secretary Fairchild has overruled the action of the Collector of Customs, at Gloucester, in assessing duty on certain salt herring imported per schooner Arthur D. Story from the coast of Newfoundland. The Collector assessed a duty because of the fact that a portion of the crew engaged in fishing were not American citizens, but were men hired in Newfoundland for that purpose The department decides that the fish are entitled to free entry

AMUSEMENTS

"A Fool's Revenge"

A small audience was present at the Opera House last evening at the performance of "A Fool's Revenge." The play is one in which the interest centres in the court jester and his misfortunes Mr Miln, who takes the part of the fool "Bertuccio," shows considerable dramatic ability and aside from the disagreeable tendency to overdo at times filled the role in an able manner In the last act when Bertuccio finds his daughter, "Fiordelisa," safe from the hands of the villain, "Manfredi," and wounded, dies, Mr Miln's talent is well shown.

The part of "Fiordelisa" was taken by Miss Louise Jordan, who, as the daughter of the court jester, has the chance to give considerable effect at her discovery of her imprisonment in Manfredi's palace Her part was fairly well rendered and at the end of the second act Miss Jordan and Mr Miln were called before the curtain With the possible exception of Mr Clifton as "Dell Aquila," the remainder of the support was decidedly weak, and on the whole the performance was a disappointment Po-night "Richard III" will be given

S. Hunnewell, introducing the poem, "The Book of the Year." Each one is writing a book, inscribing upon the memory what he thinks, says, and does, which we shall one day read to our joy or regret; chorus, "By and By." Miss Emil e L. Tuck player, all the accompaniments. The semi-chorus, a double quartette, rendered their selections well, and the choruses were smooth and efficient.

PRESIDENT HYDE'S LECTURE

An Entertaining and Instructive Address

President Wm DeWitt Hyde of Bowdoin College, lectured before a large audience in the Central Church, last evening and all present listened to his address with evident pleasure He was introduced by Rev Dr Field in a few words and his subject announced as "The Cultivation of the Attention In his preliminary remarks the speaker called attention to the importance of the subject and presented us one of its finest illustrations, Napoleon, whose will exerted a power over his mind rarely noticed among eminent men There are, said the speaker, two theories of education as diametrically opposed as allopathy and homœopathy in medicine and a great deal more distinguished from each other than are Republicans and Democrats in politics One theory aims to beat in and the other true to the etymology of the word to draw out

The speaker proceeded to pay his respects to the former theory in the most forcible manner He illustrated by the treatment of scholars in the days of the Puritan Fathers, their long hours, dull and uninteresting tasks and lessons were all portrayed and Henry Ward Beecher s recollections of his early school days were presented as strong testimony The wise teacher insists that certain things shall be learned within a given period but aims as far as possible to help the pupil to learn it for himself in accordance with a natural development of his own understanding instead of forcing it upon him as a foreign obstacle to be overcome The ideal method of education is that which gives to the child the sense of reaching out after something that he wants This is attention as the etymology of the word shows

Interested attention is the key to healthy mental growth Listless or mechanical receptivity is its deadly foe Examples which are worthy the consideration of every teacher were shown how studies would be made the object of the utmost attention to the pupil by bringing his mind into contact with tangible results Attention was divided into three kinds first a mere vital and irresistible act, second in which determined by desire which though voluntary may be resisted by our will third an act determined by our own deliberate volition

Corresponding to these there should be recognized three distinct stages of education First, in which a vital and irresistible object of study must be made attractive by sensuous representations by anecdote and illustration by connection with the child s immediate interest and curiosity at the time, second in which the teacher s will must be the impelling force, and in this connection President Hyde cautioned the teachers in regard to requiring excessive work The third, or the highest stage of education, is reached when the pupil comes to direct his attention by the power of his own will toward truth as an end desirable in and for itself regardless of pleasure or cost inducement or difficul

A Sluggish Liver

Causes the Stomach and Bowels to become disordered, and the whole system to suffer from debility. In all such cases Ayer's Pills give prompt relief.

After much suffering from Liver and Stomach troubles, I have finally been cured by taking Ayer's Cathartic Pills. I always find them prompt and thorough in their action, and their occasional use keeps me in a perfectly healthy condition. — Ralph Wenman, Annapolis, Md.

Twenty-five years ago I suffered from a torpid liver, which was restored to healthy action by taking Ayer's Pills. Since that time I have never been without them. They regulate the bowels, assist digestion, and increase the appetite, more surely than any other medicine. — Paul Churchill, Harverhill, Mass.

INVIGORATED.

I know of no remedy equal to Ayer's Pills for Stomach and Liver disorders. I suffered from Torpid Liver, and Dyspepsia, for eighteen months. My skin was yellow, and my tongue coated. I had no appetite, suffered from Headache, was pale and emaciated. A few boxes of Ayer's Pills, taken in moderate doses, restored me to perfect health. — Waldo Miles, Oberlin, Ohio.

Ayer's Pills are a superior family medicine. They strengthen and invigorate the digestive organs, create an appetite, and remove the horrible depression and despondency resulting from Liver Complaint. I have used these Pills in my family, for years, and they never fail to give entire satisfaction. — Otto Montgomery, Oshkosh, Wis.

BY REBECCA R. PIERCE.

Low in the valley of Despondency,
Silent and sad, a singer sat, one day;
No coveted reward of praise had she,
Her efforts to repay.

Within her heart bitter regrets did throng;
She said, "I'm like a bird with crippled wing;
To others richer, rarer gifts belong;
In nobler strains they sing.

"To grand and lofty heights they soar so high,
With lays by the admiring world they're crowned.
Alas, no laurel wreath is mine—for I
Sing low upon the ground."

But while with eager heart she sighed for fame,
As I with a woman's nature hoped and planned,
There came, one day, a missive with her name,
Penned by a stranger's hand.

The closely-written page with tears was blurred,—
Such tears as from the heart's deep fountain spring;
But like sweet incense was each written word—
A heart-felt offering.

It told of comfort in the hour of need,
Wrought by the world allotted her to do;
And bade her in her chosen field God-speed,
With grateful heart and true.

It cheered the singer's heart and made it strong.
She said, "Though poor and worthless seems my a.rain,
And I am but the humblest child of song,
I have not sung in vain."

Trainer Murphy Talks.

SPEED AND BLOOD IN DEMAND—THE BEST PERFORMER OF LAST SEASON—WHAT MAUD S. CAN DO.

Two pair of ankle boots—horse boots—were swinging in the hands of Johnny Murphy, trainer and driver of trotters belonging to hundreds of men, such as Robert Bonner, Shepherd Knapp, just deceased; Nathan Straus, Sheriff Hugh Grant and Mr. J. B. Houston.

"And so you want me to talk of trotters and trotting, do you?" was Murphy's next remark, and he turned to a Herald reporter who had enjoyed the story of the boots. "What I may say," he continued cheerily, "will not amount to much, but then my observations of the year past have convinced me of at least two things. And these observations, mind you, have not been confined to a limited section of country, but have been the result of many hundreds of miles of travel in the States where trotting is still the sport of the masses, and repeated conversations with owners and breeders of the fastest stock seen on the track during last season. I am convinced, first, that at no time within my recollection has the trotting horse been more thought of than now, and never were wealthy men more inclined to give good prices for well bred animals that show speed. Second, that notwithstanding the breaking up of a few breeding farms there are already begun new enterprises of this kind by gentlemen of wealth and experience, and will more than fill the gaps made by those who have retired from the business.

THE TROTTER IS KING.

"These things may not be new to you. I do not claim that they are new, but the crowds that gather at the circuit meetings throughout the West and East are sufficient proof that the trotter is still king of the turf, at least where the public may have an opportunity to substantial back an opinion which they will occasionally have regarding this or that performer. There isn't a road driver anywhere that doesn't like little speed. There is a born American that wouldn't rather have a fast horse than a slow one. The latter are a necessity and fill their places. The former are demanded and must be produced. There is just as much fashion, too, in the matter of the value of certain strains of blood in the trotting horse as in garments worn by wealthy people. Sires come into prominence through the exceptional performance of some horse, and the current of public opinion runs that way. Then, in a year or two, there is another change, until a last some breeders become convinced of what is best and stick to it, while others are diametrically opposed to them. The talk, the arguments, the wagers about breeding are interminable and at times amusing, but it is all good for the trade, and I hope it may continue. It wouldn't be well if we all thought alike in this respect. It has been my good fortune to have been able to try the speed of many hundreds of first class animals and possibly of as many different strains of blood as any other man in the country. I may have a preference and lean this way or that, but that amounts to little. Gentlemen who want fast horses for the road and track are as capable of forming an opinion upon his subject as I am, and I cannot say what my experience may have taught me. All men are fallible. But to the buyer and to the breeder allow me to remark, keep your eyes open and be influenced only by your own judgment and you will not be led astray."

THE CHAMPION RECORD.

"As for an opinion regarding the better horses of the day and those that may win honors on the turf in the coming season," continued the trainer, "I do not wish particularly to give upon the record. There are a great many fast animals in this country, and their number is increasing year after year. There is no telling what is in store for us in the matter of speed. Why, I am sure there was no time last season, when, with two weeks' notice, Maud S. could not have trotted in 2.08 or better. She has never done her best, in my opinion. Repeatedly conversations of this kind took place between Mr. Bonner and myself.

"'What are you going to do with the mare this season, Mr. Bonner?'

"'I don't know myself, but then I want to keep her 'on edge.'

"She wasn't edge, but then she was not driven to break her own champion record, though I frequently sent her a quarter in thirty seconds.

"I cannot, of course, say anything about Mr. Bonner's intentions regarding Maud S. next season, but if nothing happens I shall probably jog her a little in the coming months, that she may be all right when the season opens. Still this is guesswork, but if Mr. Bonner wants her ready for a trial there will be no difficulty in having her fit at the required time.

"Yes, some of the pleasantest times in my career as a driver have been passed at Mr. Bonner's farm, near Tarrytown. He loves his horses and treats them as horses should be treated. Time and time again I have speeded his animals required distances, and the recognition of my work has been of such a liberal nature I have been loath to accept it. I like to work for him, and wouldn't mind being at the farm every day, but then modesty forbids.

LAST SEASON'S BEST PERFORMER.

"Harry Wilkes, in my opinion, was the greatest track performer of last year. I did not think so at first, but when I came against him my views were suddenly changed. He is an exceptionally fast trotter, and deserving of all the praise that he has received. His visit to California may not prove injurious, but I have thought that he would be in better shape in the spring had the rest that he honestly earned been given him this winter. There may be nothing to beat him next year, but the very fast ones are numerous, and it would be absurd to predict the result of a season's work under the circumstances."

"Correct again," was Cabe Case's sententious indorsement of Murphy's remarks.

"Oh! yes. I am wintering a good many horses. It's fun to educate them. I jog them on the road, and, so far as is practicable, take them on different avenues day after day, that they may become just as interested as I am. Horses get familiar with roads and paces the same as a man, and it does them good to give them a change. I have tried it and find it beneficial.

The New York Herald has organized a snow-shoe expedition, under the leadership of Lieutenant Frederick Schwatka, of Arctic fame, for the mid-winter exploration of that wonderland of this hemisphere, the Yellowstone National Park. The half has not been told about that marvellous domain. Summer tourists have written many volumes concern ng it, but in its cebound, snow-er veloped, blizzard-swept aspects it is known only to the hardy aborigines and a few adventurous hunters. The strange freaks of nature, the grotesque transformations, occurring during a rigorous winter in that region of geysers, boiling springs, canons and waterfalls, surpass the wildest imagination and are a perpetual source of amazement to the students of natural phenomena. The World proposes to lift the midwinter curtain of this wonderland for the benefit of its readers and for the promotion of science.

The Occupations of Great Men.

The Medical Age has been investigating this subject, and says that the father of Demosthenes was a blacksmith; of Euripides, a dealer in vegetables; of Socrates, a mediocre sculptor; of Epicurus, a shepherd; of Virgil, an innkeeper. Columbus was the son of a wool carder Shakespeare, of a butcher; Luther, of a miner; Cromwell, of a brewer; Sixtus V., of a swineherd; Linnæus, of a poor country minister; Franklin, of a soap boiler; Rousseau, of a watchmaker; and Murat, of an innkeeper. The writer concludes that the mothers of these men may have been the source from which their genius was derived, and, indeed, it is known that some of these were women of more than ordinary excellence.
